

RULES OF THE GAME

DRAGON BONUS SIDE BET

AT BACCARAT

If indicated at the table, you may choose to place a Dragon Bonus side bet in addition to your initial bet. This bet must be made in accordance with the limits indicated at the table and placed on the table at the designated spot (next to the associated betting position) before the first card is dealt. A Dragon Bonus side bet can be associated with the “player” hand or the “banker” hand. A Dragon Bonus side bet wins insofar as it is associated with the winning hand, and i) the difference in the final score of the “player” hand and the “banker” hand is between 4 and 9, ii) the winning hand is a “natural”, or iii) if there is a “natural” tie between the final score of the “player” hand and the “banker” hand. A winning Dragon Bonus side bet is paid as follows :

| Difference between the final score of the « player » hand and the « banker » hand : | Payout ** |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| 9                                                                                   | 30 to 1   |
| 8                                                                                   | 10 to 1   |
| 7                                                                                   | 6 to 1    |
| 6                                                                                   | 4 to 1    |
| 5                                                                                   | 2 to 1    |
| 4                                                                                   | 1 to 1    |
|                                                                                     |           |
| Winning hand is a « natural » *                                                     | 1 to 1    |
|                                                                                     |           |
| « Natural » tie between the « payer » hand and the « banker » hand *                | Push      |

* A « natural » hand is a hand with a total of 8 or 9 with 2 cards

** Note that only the highest payout ratio is paid on a winning bet.

These rules come into force on November 1st, 2018, and are governed by the By-law respecting casino games (CQLR c. S-13.1, r. 3.1). The Société des casinos du Québec inc. may amend the rules herein at any time.